Sat, eve.

Dear Millie

I must own to feeling a little dis-appointed tonight when Papa came back without my little girl I was in such a state of indignation at the mean-ness of sending a for a Teacher 280, miles and making them lose other positions and then turning them off in that kind of style. I should certainly have sent Papa right up to see to matters if it had been within any reasonable distance.

Well we got your letter tonight and although

I still feel like telling you to shake off the dust off your feet and leave a place where they have no more idea of the way to treat people than they have shown there, yet I suppose you are wise if you can ~~accept~~ find a good position to take it till Christmas as I should here we all supplied now. I do not see how you could go in with Mrs. Tuttle after all that has occurred even if the Trustees should desire it. Should you be coming down, had you not best arrange so as to come down when Mr. Mayhew comes down to Synod and so have company. Synod meets in Oakland I think Tuesday, at any rate next week.

Now dont feel as if you must take a position pleasant or unpleasant for you have a home to come to, and you know well that we rejoice to have you with us.

I am most grateful to Mrs Collins for her kindness to you and trust she will be rewarded.

I feel quite relieved that you are in better spirits and trust you will have no more such trying scenes to pass through.

Ever your loving

Mamma.
